Uneven cement causes ballroom floor to crack

by Mike Nolan

Eastern's University Union Ballroom floor is again in need of repair, just months after repairs were made to correct a sag in the floor's structure.

University Union Area Head Bill Clark said Friday tiles on the floor were dented and starting to crack near where repairs were made over the summer and would need to be replaced by new tiles.

The cement work underlying the tiles where the repaired section meets the rest of the floor is uneven and "bumpy," Clark said.

Clark said he did not know when the work would begin but he said it would be a two-day job.

Carpetland of Champaign, who did the earlier tile repair work on the floor, will repair the concrete and replace the tiles at no cost, he added.

"It was their fault (Carpetland) that the damage happened. If they had done the job right in the first place we would not be having these problems," Clark said.

Russ Gross, contract salesman for Carpetland, said the job of putting down new tile over the repaired area was not done properly, but added the current problem of denting and cracking did not occur until after former repairs were completed.

"A ridge appeared where the repaired section and original section come together, and the cement foundation has to be sanded down and the tile replaced," he said.

Gross said the repairs are currently scheduled for Nov. 1 and Nov. 2. He confirmed that there would be no cost to Eastern.

Reagan to request increased military funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reagan administration says it will ask Congress next year for money to strengthen the armed forces to meet the threat of a full-scale Soviet attack in the Middle East.

"We intend to tailor our forces, using those forces in the region plus reinforcement units from the U.S., to meet an evolving threat," the State and Defense departments have told the congressional Joint Economic Committee.

The officials said a Soviet attack was "the most dangerous potential threat" to U.S. interests in the Middle East, and added that the United States is working toward an ability "to meet the most demanding threat" in the region.

Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis.,

chairman of the committee, released the administration's statements Monday, describing them as "important and disturbing."

"Those who believed that the Reagan administration had already proposed a dramatic buildup in our military forces may have a surprise coming," Reuss said. "How many billions more will be required in the Persian Gulf?"

The committee had asked officials of the two departments a series of questions about the administration's military plans and its commitments in the Middle East.

In their joint response, the two departments said that "the most dangerous potential threat to U.S.

Senate election petitions available

by Gene O'Shea

Petitions for seats in the Nov. 18 Student Senate election will be available starting Wednesday in the Student Government Office, Bob Erio, Elections Committee co-chairman, said Monday.

There are five seats open in each of the three districts: residence hall, off-campus and at-large.

The petition packet, due Nov. 4, includes all information needed for the prospective candidate.

In the packet a candidate will find a letter which will inform him what to do, a copy of the Student Government Constitution and a copy of the election rules.

All petitioners must sign a grade release form which permits the Student Elections Committee to know their grades. This stipulation is required since all candidates must have a grade point average of 2.0 or above, Erio said.

Also required from each candidate is a petition signed by 25 students.

Erio said he recommends that a candidate receive more than the required amount of signatures because in many instances some signatures are invalid.

Erio said the elections committee will order 3,500 ballots for the election.

The election date was changed earlier this semester so candidates who would be attending the Student Services Conference in New Orleans in November would have time to campaign before the election.

Students will be able to vote in the University Union Old Ballroom and Coleman Hall. Voting booths will be set up in each place in order to give students more privacy while voting.

Liddy to speak

Students, faculty and area residents will have a chance to get an inside look at Watergate Tuesday.

G. Gordon Liddy, sponsored by the University Board, will speak on "Public Perception versus Reality" at 8 p.m. in the University Union Grand Ballroom, UB lecture coordinator Steve Klingbiel said Monday.

Liddy, the Watergate "mastermind" who successfully defied the efforts of all three branches of the government to force him to betray his associates, is one of the most controversial figures of our time, Klingbiel said.

Admission is $1 for students and $3 for the general public.

33 Haitian refugees drown half-mile from U.S. shores

HILLSBORO BEACH, Fla.—Thirty-three Haitian refugees drowned early Monday after their leaky, 25-foot wooden sailboat broke up in rough surf less than a half-mile from shore, the U.S. Coast Guard said. The 34 others aboard the boat survived.

It was the worst such accident since heavy influxes of Caribbean refugees began more than three years ago.

Petty Officer Daryl Gale said all the bodies washed ashore, and a search by helicopters and boats was suspended shortly before noon.

"You come so close. Half of them made it, half of them didn't. It's so sad," said Dan Hynes, a police sergeant in the Florida town located 35 miles north of Miami.

By midmorning, the dead—their naked bodies twisted into odd positions by the fierce waves that dumped them ashore—littered the beach along with snip debris. The partially submerged ship's frame washed to within 50 feet of shore.

"It looks like a combat zone. There were bodies everywhere," said police patrolman Joe Dente.

The dead included 19 men and 14 women, including three who were pregnant. All were described as "young adults" by authorities at the Broward County morgue.

Thirty Haitians swam safely to shore, Gale said.

One dead and 20 wounded after Lebanon car bombing

BEIRUT, Lebanon—A car bomb packed with steel nails exploded Monday on a shaded, residential lane in Christian East Beirut. Police said it killed one person and wounded 20 others.

It was the first bombing in the Christian sector of the divided city in six weeks, and many residents feared it signaled another round of terrorist warfare between rival militias in the half-Christian, half-Moslem nation.

That fear was bolstered later in the day by an unidentified caller to a Western news agency who vowed revenge for Monday's blast "with a more violent explosion."

The bomb set 17 cars ablaze, heaved four of them 15 yards into a pastoral pine grove, and gouged a crater into the street that was large enough to bury half of another car. It shattered windows and scattered debris over a five-square-block area.

Reagan starts all-out blitz for more AWACS sale votes

WASHINGTON—With a climactic Senate vote just two days away, President Reagan launched an all-out blitz on the opposition Monday in a bid to rescue his $8.5-billion arms sale to Saudi Arabia.

Before the day was over, he had picked up one vote, Sen. William L. Armstrong (R-Colo.), and the opposition had gained one, Sen. Patrick Leahy (D-Vt.).

Reagan called seven senators to his office Monday—five declared opponents and two who were undecided—and aides said he might talk to a dozen other Senators before the show-down Wednesday afternoon.

He is trying to overcome the opposition to the sale of AWACS radar planes and F-15 jet fighter weaponry, a plan already rejected by the House by a 301-111 vote.

Link found in Brink's heist with bullet found in pocket

NEW YORK—A .38-caliber slug found in the pocket of a man slain in a gunbattle with New York City police came from the gun of a New York policeman killed in last week's $1.6 million Brink's heist, police sources said Monday.

The ballistics test provided the first definite link between the two incidents.

The results came as a grand jury sitting in a Queens courthouse turned "armed fortress" began hearing evidence stemming from the shootout Friday involving Nathaniel Burns, a former Black Panther, and his slain companion, Sam Smith.

The sources said the bullet came from the gun of New York Police Sgt. Edward O'Grady Jr., one of the two officers slain last week along with a Brink's guard in the armed holdup. The incident led to the arrests of Weather Underground radicals Katherine Boudin and Judith Clark.

In raids on a number of apartments over the last week, police found floor plans for the Queens courthouse.

Polk quits comptroller race, shortage of adequate funds

MOLINE, Ill.—Unable to raise enough money to mount an effective challenge, Rep. Ben Polk, R-Moline, says he will not run against incumbent Democrat Roland W. Burris for the office of the state comptroller.

Polk's exit makes Chicago businessman Robert Hall the only announced candidate for the Republican nomination.

Polk said his attempts at raising campaign funds could have been thwarted by Gov. James Thompson's effort to recruit a woman to challenge Burris.

Lack of evidence causes charges to be dropped

by Dawn Morville

A case was dropped Wednesday against a Charleston landlord who had been charged with "letting premises for unlawful purposes," after a loud party was held at rental property on Ninth Street by Eastern students April 10.

City Attorney Tony Sunderman said the charges against Don Murphy, 940 Division St., were dropped because the city did not have sufficient evidence to proceed with the trial.

Charges were filed May 1 in Coles County Circuit Court by the city against Murphy and landlord Ron Tarvin, 1410 New England Drive, after neighbors complained about loud parties.

Tarvin was found innocent by Associate Judge Loren J. Kabbes in July.

Murphy owns a four-occupant apartment house at 1609 Ninth St. and Tarvin owns the house next door at 1605 Ninth St.

Sunderman said the court indicated that the city had to demonstrate that Murphy received notice from the city that some activity was occurring on the premises that was either proscribed or illegal.

"We could not demonstrate that evidence so the charges were dropped," he said.

Sunderman said charges were originally brought against the landlords because the city ordinance had no requirement of notice.

Sunderman said after Judge Kabbes heard the evidence from the neighbors in July, he said the ordinance needed a notice requirement.

Murphy and Tarvin could have faced a maximum fine of $500 if they had been convicted, he said.

Soldiers dispatched to uphold Polish law

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Thousands of soldiers fanned out over Poland Monday to supervise preparations for winter and "maintain law and order" as the nation's strike wave surged toward a new crest.

"The situation in the country is beginning to slip out of control," the popular Warsaw daily Zycie Warszawy said in a grim, front-page commentary.

With strikes and demonstrations affecting some two-thirds of Poland's 49 provinces, the mounting protests appeared to be the most serious since the worker upheaval that spawned the independent labor federation Solidarity in August 1980.

Local Solidarity officials reported new protests in Konin, Lomza and near Katowice in defiance of renewed government demands for an end to strikes to save the country from "disastrous consequences."

Communist authorities earlier had sounded dark warnings of martial law if the labor unrest continued, but the government's action Monday was seen, initially, as strictly an economic measure.

There was some apparent progress, however, in talks aimed at ending long-standing disputes in Zyradow, just west of Warsaw and in southwestern Zielona Gora, where thousands were off the job.

Despite an attempt by Solidarity to defuse local anger over food shortages and other issues through a one-hour nationwide protest scheduled Wednesday, no end was in sight to the wildcat walkouts.

An army spokesman said most of the three-to-four-man squadrons of officers and seasoned enlisted men dispatched to the villages and towns were in place Monday, but it was too early to tell what tasks they faced.

Government sources said about 830 squads would cover approximately 2,000 villages and small towns beset by shortages of food and fuel as the predictably harsh winter approaches.

Gen. Tadeusz Hupalowski, minister of administration and environment, said Monday that the troops would be "unleashing social energy and civil activity aimed at overcoming the crisis."

He said they would also "impartially" cover health services, housing, transport and the flow of food and fuel supplies.

Hupalowski added that the troops would help "to maintain law and order and counteract local conflicts." Street clashes were reported last week during work actions in larger cities.

But the troops' assignment seems to be bolstering strong central authority of the new party chief, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski. He also is premier and defense minister.

Faculty Senate to take action on add-drop recommendation

by Cathy Crist

After two sessions of discussing the proposed changes in the add-drop system, the Faculty Senate will meet Tuesday to take action on an add-drop recommendation, Senate Chairman Lavern Hamand said.

Samuel Taber, dean of Student Academic Services, recently proposed a change in the add-drop system that would physically separate the add lines from the drop lines.

Beginning next semester, drop cards will be turned in outside the Registration Office while add lines will remain in the University Union Old Ballroom.

Taber has met with the Faculty Senate twice in the past month to answer questions on his proposal, which has met with opposition from both students and faculty.

As a result of the meetings, an ad hoc committee with representatives from the Faculty Senate, Student Senate and Council on Academic Affairs, was formed.

The committee met last week and wrote an eight-point recommendation as a solution to the add-drop problems. The senate will probably take action on the proposal Tuesday, Hamand said.

The proposal would have central registration and add-drops on Friday and Saturday and classes would begin on Monday.

According to the proposal, graduate students would register by mail.

The senate will meet 3 p.m. Tuesday in the University Union Addition Martinsville Room.

ISSC fails to learn from mistakes

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission is again requesting additional funds from the Illinois General Assembly, an additional $19 million to help meet scholarship commitments for the 1981-82 school year.

The ISSC just does not seem to learn from previous mistakes.

Last year the ISSC cut off processing applications in August, six months early, because it was running out of scholarship monies. A request was made for an additional $9.9 million to bail out the program, of which only $5.3 million was approved by the legislature.

Once again the ISSC has depleted its funds and is asking for an additional $19 million to bring its budget to $91 million for the year. According to Tom Mortenson, ISSC director of research and planning analysis, ideally an additional $50 million is needed to maintain current demands for scholarships.

The commission is continuing to pass the buck of its management shortcomings, by requesting that the legislature again bail them out financially.

The most unfortunate result of the ISSC's continuing problem is that it is the students who suffer.

The most recent announcement by the commission that it may not be able to meet all the award commitments to students this spring comes as a blow to students who have already been assured that they will receive financial assistance from the ISSC.

Coming this late in the semester, the announcement of the problems could jeopardize some students' return to Eastern in the spring.

Certainly there is not enough time now for students to try to come up with a few hundred dollars in time for next spring.

It is amazing that even after taking several steps last year to avoid running out of funds this year, the commission could not solve its problem.

One step the ISSC took was to raise the students expected self-help figure from $950 to $1,200. Self-help is the amount each student is expected to contribute to her education. Next the ISSC raised the amount that parents were expected to contribute toward their child's education.

Obviously these two measures proved ineffective, for the commission has already run out of funds for this year.

The commission needs to revamp its award system so that it can assure students they will receive the amount of aid it promised students.

The commission is being unfair to students by constantly keeping them in the dark over whether they will have ISSC scholarship money each semester. The mismanagement of the award system is continuing to hurt those who can least afford to be hurt—students who need the aid to continue in school.

Steve Klingbiel

Liddy's lecture points out flaws we can't forget

(Steve Klingbiel is the Lecture Coordinator for the University Board.)

In response to Monday's column about the appearance of G. Gordon Liddy Tuesday, there is something I want to make perfectly clear to the university and the public about the University Board.

We never take a political point of view on any of our lectures or any of the other programming we do. Our sole aim is to please as large a section of the campus community as possible and to bring a variety of entertainment and educational programs to them.

Watergate was an unfortunate affair, but it should not be ignored or forgotten. In fact, it should be studied and researched from every aspect, not just from the angle from which we wish to see it. The American people can be proud that even when pressed to its limits, our system worked.

Try as I might I couldn't see how John Gacy, Son of Sam, and Charles Manson should be considered in the same realm with G. Gordon Liddy. Another question I had after reading Miss Sefton's column yesterday was should a convicted criminal who serves his time and pays his debt to society continue to be denied his rights as granted by the constitution even after he is released back into society? Mr. Liddy served 50 months in eight different jails.

I think Mr. Liddy has a lot of interesting and thought-provoking things to say to us about our government. Most of us have been in organizations. When you're on the outside of almost any organization most all of it looks very nice, but once you're on the inside you see many of the skeletons in the closet. Government is just the same as any other organization, so why should we, as future leaders of this country be blind to the workings of our government as were our fathers?

I am looking forward to the day when the average American is his own watchdog and not just another rider on the proverbial blind man's bandwagon. I think it is just as important for us to see a few of the not-so-American things about our country. I'm not saying we should agree with these views nor am I saying we should disagree with them, only that we should listen to them and listen to them objectively.

Every college student has heard since childhood that you learn from your mistakes. I know that when the average student misses a question on an exam he looks at that problem and studies that problem from every angle. Why shouldn't we have this same attitude about our country's problems and mistakes?

As with any University Board activity, I hope this program will be judged by the students after and not before the performance.

Your Turn

Uniting to win is okay

Editor:

The Women of Panhellenic Council would like to respond to an earlier letter to the editor titled, "Beware of Queen Race".

By virtue of the fact that all sorority women of campus belong to Panhellenic Council, we feel we have a right to run one candidate. Residence halls and other organizations unite and run one candidate, we feel that we have the same right.

In either case, residence halls or Panhellenic Council, the pool of eligible voters may increase in size as a result of unification, but it is those people who actually vote who make the difference. For example, the number of people in the South Quad totals approximately 1,990, whereas there are only 1,335 Greeks on campus.

Miss Pearson, you seemed to feel we were overly concerned with winning. In all honesty, don't you think that everyone who sponsored a candidate wanted her to win?

As Panhellenic officers, part of our job is to keep our Greek system as unified as possible. We want to see the sororities on campus work together, because the more united we are, the better our system is.

The women of Panhellenic Council

Senate acted properly

Editor:

In reference to your editorial concerning the Faculty Senate, its chair (what an expression!) doesn't particularly mind being called haphazard, but would like to attempt to set the record fairly straight.

The Senate's constitution clearly states it has jurisdiction over some responsibility for several standing faculty committees: CAA, Council on Graduate Studies, COTE, etc., but beyond that the Senate merely appoints faculty members to other campus committees and, of course, is vitally interested in the proceedings and actions of those committees.

The revised by-laws of the WELH Board were sent to the Faculty Chair by Mr. Kenneth Hesler with no request for formal action. They were circulated among the Senate membership for "information only", then filed. When Bob Glover asked Chair Hamand for formal approval—an action unnecessary under the Constitution—Glover was sent an informal note stating the Faculty Senate had no objection and, acting for the Senate, Hamand endorsed the new WELH by-laws. Everyone seemed happy about this solution, time was saved and the university plodded on its way.

How and why the Eastern News became hysterical over this matter is a mystery to the irresponsible Faculty Senate and its haphazard chair.

WELH-FM will not affect C-92 listening audience

by Jeanne Patterson

A director at Charleston radio station WEIC said the move of campus radio WELH to include off-campus listeners will not affect the local station's listening audience.

Robert Payton, associate director at WEIC 92-FM, said the competition from another radio station in the area is welcomed.

"I love competition," Payton said. "I think it's the spice of life. Without it my would be boring and uninteresting."

WELH's decision to expand its listening audience by broadcasting off-campus was made early this semester, however, because a necessary piece of equipment has not arrived, WELH has not yet been able to broadcast on the FM frequency.

Greg Moore, WELH asistant to the general manager and adviser, said earlier that a broad-band processor necessary for FM broadcasting is on order and should arrive any day for hook-up at Charleston's cable outlet, Liberty Cable.

The competition will not hurt WEIC's advertising contracts with area businesses because WEIC has already established the amount of advertising needed to bring the ratings to where they stand now, Payton said.

Programming at WEIC will remain the same as it currently is, but the format may change in the future "if the need develops," Payton said.

Payton said he feels no threat to WEIC's listening audience because the station has a format set up to appeal to college students as well as the surrounding community.

"We have programs set up to get more on-campus listeners, like dorm floor parties, give-aways and greek functions," Payton said.

City to vote on cable request

by Peggy McMeen

A request by Liberty Cable TV for additional channels will be voted on by the Charleston City Council in a special meeting at noon Tuesday.

At the last regular council meeting, Liberty representatives proposed seven more channels as a standard cable service, with a rate increase to subscribers of $2 a month and $1.50 per additional outlet.

If the channels were added as an optional service for cable customers, the inverter used to add the channels would cost more to install and would end up on the black market, representatives told the council.

All customers' channels would be increased and losses to Liberty would be cut down if the channels were a standard service offered by the system, the representatives said.

Liberty Cable expected the issue to be voted on at the last meeting, but it was not listed on the council's agenda and could only be discussed without a final vote.

The meeting will be in the council chambers on the second floor of the municipal building, 520 Jackson.

BOG degree program rep to talk at COTE meeting

by Yvonne Beeler

The Eastern representative for the Board of Governors degree program will give an informational presentation at the Council on Teacher Education meeting Tuesday.

COTE chairman Ronald Gholson of the secondary education and foundations department said at the request of several council members, he had invited Shirley Neal to speak before the COTE.

Neal, a member of the English department, is the representative of the alternative BOG degree.

As stated in the current 1981-82 catalog, the BOG degree program is an individualized program for working adults.

No major is required and the work can be evaluated for academic credit.

Gholson said this presentation is for informational purposes only, and no action will be taken.

In addition to Neal's presentation, Gholson said the council will, in general, discuss what action COTE will take in the near future with House Bill 150.

Action by the council with HB 150 will begin in November, he added.

The bill was passed by the Illinois legislature in 1979, requiring all potential graduates seeking teacher certification after Sept. 1, 1981 to complete course work in special education.

Currently, all departments are deciding between implementing Special Education 3500, "The Education of Individuals with Exceptionalities" for three hours of credit or to infuse the equivalent of the three semester hours of special education requirements into their individual programs.

The COTE must take action with each department, either approving the individual department's decision or suggesting additional methods to meet the requirement before approval.

The COTE will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the University Union Addition Arcola-Tuscola room.

Student publications to sponsor fundraiser

by Madeleine Doubek

Eastern's student publications will sponsor a two-and-a-half hour telefund Nov. 23 to raise money for the journalism department, Daniel Thornburgh, journalism department chairman, said last week.

Thornburgh said he hopes to raise $1,000 through the telefund to buy equipment or supplies for student publications.

"We will be lucky to raise $1,000 but we will consider that our first goal," Thornburgh said.

The telefund will involve a competition between two panels of journalism faculty, students, and alumni who will telephone journalism alumni for donations, he said.

"Each team of five people will try to solicit the most donations for the department," Thornburgh said.

The teams will call between 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., he said.

Money raised from the telefund will be used within the department in areas where the university cannot offer any assistance, Thornburgh said.

The two teams who volunteer to conduct the telefund will also form a committee to decide how the pledged money will be spent, he said.

The amount of money generated in the telefund will determine how it will be spent, Thornburgh said.

"The money may be used for photography equipment, or some other type of equipment. It all depends on how much money we raise," Thornburgh said.

The telefund, which is the first fundraising project of its kind in the journalism department, will be coordinated by former Daily Eastern News editor Jim Roberts, Thornburgh added.

Roberts currently owns the Cornbelt Press in Fairbury, Illinois, Thornburgh added.

Eastern Alumni Services Director Charles Titus will also be involved in the telefund by compiling a list of journalism alumni phone numbers, Thornburgh said.

"Titus and the alumni service are also providing phones and clerical work needed for the fundraiser to run smoothly," he said.

Although Eastern is using the telefund for the first time this year, Thornburgh said this type of fundraising has been successful at other state schools.

"I'm a graduate of three different schools, and I still get calls from all of them. They seem to feel that fundraising over the phone is much more successful than fundraising through letter-writing," Thornburgh said.

Thornburgh said he also plans to make telefund an annual fundraiser if it is successful.

He also added that journalism alumni will only be called on to donate to the school once this year.

Eastern's rugby club buries top rated U of I

by Anita Busch

The University of Illinois' top rated rugby squad had their ranking damaged Saturday when Eastern's club dominated second half action to record a 17-15 A-team victory at Lantz practice field.

Field

gone in the first half.

Stelk made her first start for Reichel, replacing Gail Niebur who is out for the season because of a stress fracture of the ankle.

Panther Gigi MacIntosh registered two tallies, the first with four minutes left in the half to give her teammates a 2-0 half-time lead and the second with just five minutes gone in the second stanza.

Deb Seybert rounded out the attack with a score at the 19:31 mark.

The Panthers suffered their only setback in Sunday's opening contest against the University of Chicago 1-0.

Reichel's team managed a season

"This is the biggest win this year because it was the first time we (Eastern) ever beat U of I on any level of play. This win gave the team a better attitude for next week's tournament in Carbondale," club president Tom Cunningham said.

high 36 shots-on-goal, but came up shy in the scoring column as the Division III crew put one of just two shots on goal into the nets.

"We came out taking them pretty lightly," Reichel said, "We weren't very serious."

"It was kind of good," she added, "because it was like a slap in the face. We know we're good but it just shows us that we have to be serious."

The Panthers rebounded to blank Concordia College 5-0 with a record-setting defensive show. Reichel's squad allowed Concordia a season-low one shot on goal while firing 32 of their own.

Illinois, who was ranked No. 1 in the Illinois Union, scored two tries, two extra points and a free kick to bolt out to a 15-0 first-half lead.

"Although U of I dominated the first half, we came back and dominated the second because we had a stronger pack. We also changed our style of play for this game specifically and kicked more because U of I had a stronger backline," Eastern rugby Ned Lane said.

Eastern dominated the second half when Greg Weeg intercepted a pass and ran 25 yards to score the teams' first try. Seconds later, Lane hit a U of I rugby hard to give Eastern the ball.

Dan Lehman then assisted Jim Mackey for the ruggers' second try. Cliff Kennedy added 2 points with the goal-from-try.

Continuing to dominate, Lane picked off the ball from a line-out and tore through tackles to score another try and narrow Illinois' margin to 15-14.

After Illinois was called offside, Eastern saw their chance to pull ahead.

Kennedy booted a free kick off the U of I penalty to give Eastern the victory.

"We had U of I confused by our kicking game. We knew we had to win, and we were in better shape," rugby Scott Caldwell said.

Eastern's B-team suffered their second loss of the season with a 21-0 blanking by Illinois.

The A team will travel to Carbondale Saturday to defend their 2-year championship title in the 3rd annual All-Ghouls Tournament.

Netter meeting set for Tuesday

Women interested in competing for the 1981-82 Eastern badminton team should attend an organizational meeting 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in room 138 McAfee, head coach Karen Early said.

Early added that practice will begin Wednesday, and Tuesday's meeting is mandatory for anyone desiring to participate in badminton this season.

Field hockey team wins three at Lake Forest

by Nancy Saegesser

Eastern's field hockey team upped its season record to 15-6 by recording three shutout wins against one loss at the Lake Forest Invitational Saturday and Sunday.

Coach Beth Reichel's squad played dominating hockey, exploding for 109 shots on goal over the four-game slate while holding their opponents to 11.

"It was a good weekend," Reichel said. "We had a good time and everybody got to play.

"I wasn't very happy at all with the structure of the tournament," she continued. "We only played 30-minute halves so we can count these games for our record but not for regionals or anything.

"Plus the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point was there with a 16-3 record overall," she added. "They play a lot like us and we could use some competition like that. But instead they had us playing Edwardsville again."

The Panthers topped Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville 1-0 Saturday, notching their second win over the Cougars in a week.

Peg Moore got the game's lone goal on an assist from Mary Ohl with 12:05 gone in the second half.

"We dominated," Reichel said. "We just couldn't score and we out-shot them 18-5."

"It was very aggressive. Edwardsville always is. We have to play a different game sometimes because they're so rough," she added. "Our kids just smack the ball away because they're afraid of getting tackled. So we played with a lot less control than we normally do."

Reichel's squad will get a chance to extend its streak over Edwardsville

Wednesday when the AIAW Division II state rival invades Charleston for a 3:30 p.m. match-up.

Eastern opened tourney play Saturday morning with a 4-0 rout of the host Lake Forest squad. Lake Forest is under the direction of first-year coach Sue Trefne who completed a graduate assistantship at Eastern last spring.

Sue Carr struck first for the Panthers, taking a Barb Stelk assist into the Lake Forest goal with 13:30

(see FIELD, page 10)

Setter No. 20 Donna Uhler spikes the ball down during the Eastern invitational Oct. 16 while No. 14 Rhonda Morel anticipates a return. The Panthers take on Illinois Central College Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Lantz Gym. (News photo by Lisa Owens)

Spikers to meet ICC in rematch after double-victory weekend

by Kris Nicholson

After posting double victories Saturday in Evansville, an optimistic Panther volleyball squad will seek to avenge Wednesday's loss to Illinois Central College when Eastern battles the Cougars at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Lantz Gym.

Panther head coach Carol Gruber said her spikers' winning performance Saturday over Indiana State and the University of Evansville has instilled more confidence in the Panther unit for their Tuesday showdown with ICC.

Wednesday Eastern traveled to East Peoria and was upset in four games by the Cougars, their first victory ever over the Panthers.

But Gruber expects a different outcome in Tuesday's contest.

"ICC doesn't do anything fancy," Gruber said. "They have one good middle hitter and that's it. We're in a better position. We'll play a lot better and we're much more relaxed."

Gruber added that her team will have to keep their blocking game effective and continue to dig up the ball to emerge victorious against ICC.

Statistics from Saturday's Panther performance indicate Eastern's finest outings this season, Gruber said. The spikers boasted a 95-percent setting mark along with 94-percent service and 45-percent ace attack accuracy.

Hitter Bonnie Fisk represents the only injured Panther spiker. But Gruber said Fisk, who sustained a twisted ankle Saturday, should be ready for action against the Cougars.

Four IM football squads crowned league champs

by John Humenik

Eastern's all-university intramural flag football championship tournaments capped what IM director Dave Dutler deemed "an outstanding season" as three new champions were crowned while a fourth team retained its title.

Third North Thomas defended its Men's Recreation championship and Riptide captured the Women's Recreation title Monday. The Band, winners in the Blood and Guts category, and Mother's, the Co-recreation champions, claimed their titles Wednesday.

"I thought the season went extremely well, and from all perspectives it was a smooth running program," Dutler said. "My hat is off to all the participants of the 114 teams. They really did a good job.

"We keep growing and there is no end to the increase of participants," Dutler added. "I feel it's a spinoff of college students wanting to be physically fit."

Third North Thomas 12, Falcons "B" 6

Stu Miller passed for one touchdown and ran for another as Third North Thomas broke a 6-6 deadlock late in the second half to capture its second consecutive title Monday.

Rick Rebholtz posted the first TNT score with 12 plays expired in the first half on a 25-yard option pass from Miller. But the Falcons "B" later tied the contest 6-6 on Mike Swades' one yard toss to Marcus Maier early in the second half.

Miller later scored what proved the winner on a five-yard sprint, after TNT marched the ball 40 yards. TNT later clinched the victory by thwarting a late Falcon scoring attempt.

"We're really happy that we made it this far, but I believe everyone had it in the back of their minds early in the season," Miller said. "The guys just pulled together today, and it was good to win the title again."

TNT advanced to the championship round by edging past the Scorpins 14-12, while Falcon's "B" defeated People's Choice 20-0.

Riptide 12, Delta Zeta 6

Barb Babb connected for two touchdowns to Kathy Richards and Cindy Eggemeyer for 10 and 20 yards to lift Riptide past Delta Zeta Monday.

Riptide finished the regular season undefeated 5-0 and advanced to the title game by blanking Mash 6-0. But in the finals Riptide had a tougher time turning back Delta Zeta.

Babb, who quarterbacked the Riptide offense, had some trouble completing passes due to rainy weather, but rebounded late in the contest to post the victory.

"We didn't have that much trouble even though our passing game was poor due to the weather," team captain Karyn Mullen said. "We're really happy, but I knew we could win the title if we played well."

Eggemeyer added, "It really feels good to know that you're the champions of the whole school. We're happy."

The Band 20, Delta Sigs 8

Bret Hrubey threw to Pat Managan for 45 yards and Ralph Dvorak for 40 yards late in the first half to lift The Band to victory after trailing 8-0 early in the game Wednesday.

The Band iced the victory late in the contest when Greg Decker found Managan open on a half back option. Andy Lesnick's extra point reception capped The Band's scoring drive.

"We knew we had the potential to win the championship, but no one else thought we could," Managan said. "We're extremely happy to win, but even more happy because we could beat the fraternity teams.

"We had a lot of fun playing, and it felt good because most of the guys never won anything before."

Mother's 28, Barroom Brawlers 18

Down 12-8 at the half, Fred Schultz intercepted a Barroom Brawler pass and ran 30 yards for the touchdown to give Mother's a 16-12 lead. But Barroom quickly took an 18-16 advantage and continued to threaten.

But Cindy Eggemeyer hauled in a 15-yard scoring strike from Rick Bovillon as Mother's regained its lead 22-18, but Barroom never let down.

Mother's later clinched the victory when Bovillon threw again to Eggemeyer for a 30-yard tally.

"The key to our team's success were the girls," Bovillon said. "We felt we had some excellent girls playing and we tried to utilize them as much as possible.

"Even though it was a recreation activity, it was really competitive right down to the championship," Bovillon added. "We're really happy to win, and we never let down."

Students are 'in the mood' for fun

by Stacey Flannigan, Dru Sefton, Jeff Green and Julie Wirth

What many students do for entertainment depends largely on what kind of mood they are in.

Eastern students surveyed listed different types of activities for when they are in a quiet mood, when they feel like getting a taste of the great outdoors, and when they are in a sporting mood.

Other moods included covered those times when being thrifty by counting every penny matters, other times when it seems as though there is money to burn, and times when a romantic mood sets in.

Quiet mood

Sophomore Suzanne Horn says she enjoys painting when she is in a quiet mood. Teddy Coopwood, also a sophomore, said he likes to listen to soft music.

Freshman Scott Myer said he likes to "read a book or relax" when in a quiet mood, while senior Kim Niehaus listed listening to classical music as her favorite activity.

Listening to soft music and writing were two pastimes junior Christine Howell said she partakes in when she feels quiet.

Freshman Jane Atchley sometimes takes the quiet mood to its extreme by sleeping. Other times, she said she just likes to watch TV.

When in a quiet mood, freshman Diane Dick said she "takes the long way home," while junior Bud Bauer said, "when I'm in a quiet mood I like to sit and enjoy a newspaper or magazine or an entertaining TV movie."

"I watch TV and work jigsaw puzzles" when in a quiet mood, freshman Lori Warner said.

Outdoorsy mood

When Myer feels outdoorsy, he said he goes for a walk in the woods or participates in outdoor sports. Many other students listed going for a walk as one of their favorite outdoor activities.

"I like to go to Fox Ridge or any state park and enjoy the outdoors playing sports or Frisbee," Bauer said.

While many other students listed several outdoor sports as what they do when they feel like getting a little fresh air, senior Julie Germon said she likes to go camping or on a picnic.

When sophomore Kim Hutchcraft is in an outdoorsy mood, she said she takes nature pictures for her photography class.

Sporting mood

When freshman Terri Folsom is in a sporting mood she said she usually goes out and plays tennis. Sophomore John Cona, on the other hand, would rather play handball or racketball.

But Jill Schuller, sophomore, takes the sporting mood seriously. She says she (naturally) goes to Sporty's.

Niehaus said she enjoys marching in the band at a football game when in the sporting mood, while Atchley said bowling is a good sporting activity.

Bauer said "even just a quiet place to fish" suits him when he is in the sporting mood.

Sophomore Nancy Scovie had an unique idea of what to do to satisfy a sporting mood—"I ride in a convertible," she said.

Thrifty mood

Kathy Graff, junior, knows what to do when she is in a thrifty mood and has no money. She takes a walk or goes to the park.

Freshman Tempest Wilson said she likes to go to the free movies shown in the residence halls.

Myer said just visiting with friends is what he does when a lack of funds hits, and junior Doug Barton said he enjoys fishing or hunting.

Howell said she likes to "window shop and dream" when she runs short of money.

Warner had an easy solution to the no-money problem—"I go out on a date so I don't have to spend money," she said.

Sophomore Lisa Kroeger said, "I go to free concerts, galleries or museums where they don't charge admission" when she is in a thrifty mood.

Extravagant mood

Chris Keller, sophomore, had a quick answer when asked what she enjoyed doing when she was in an extravagant mood. She said she sponsors herself in a drinking marathon which lasts from 2 p.m. to 2 a.m.

When he has money to spend, Myer said he likes to "buy things for the women I love."

Howell, on the other hand, said she enjoys buying "flowers and cards for the man I love."

Niehaus said she would rather treat herself to a new miniature elephant to add to her collection.

Many of the female students interviewed said they like to spend their money, when they have it, by going on a clothes-shopping spree.

"I spend money making long-distance phone calls," junior Paulette Noreuil said.

Dick said that when in the extravagant mood, she likes to "keg it up with friends."

Romantic mood

Cuddling up with a member of the opposite sex seemed to be a favorite form of entertainment for a romantic mood. However, Don Hejmanowski, senior, said he likes to fix dinner for two at his place when he gets in the romantic mood.

Myer also said he enjoys dinners for two, but would prefer to go out to a favorite restaurant.

Scovie said her romantic dinner must include candlelight and champagne to be complete.

Noreuil said she enjoys listening to quiet, romantic music when the mood strikes.

Bauer said the romantic activity isn't as important as the person involved.

"Just being with someone that cares about me and vice-versa. It really doesn't matter what you're doing as long as you both enjoy it," he said.

Weekend pastimes

Students also listed their favorite weekend pastimes.

Sophomore Jannan Noirfalise said she likes to go bowling and dancing on the weekends, besides going to movies and the bars.

Ann-Margret Marberg, also a sophomore, said she too likes to go to the bars, but also enjoys eating and watching cartoons.

Dick said she likes to "party each and every night, being sure to hit all the bars."

Senior Cindy Rice said besides going to the bars, she sometimes enjoys visiting another school.

Noreuil said her entertainment for the weekend is going home, while Kroeger said she spends time with her boyfriend.

Germon said she likes to "basically relax" on the weekends by sleeping late and being lazy.

Clockwise from upper left, page four: a concert, such as this one by country rock band Appaloosa, is a great way to kick off a weekend. If you're feeling romantic, dancing is not only fun but also good exercise. Dungeons and Dragons, a board game steadily gaining popularity, is one game that can be played when you're running short on cash. Eating at a good restaurant, such as Reflections in Charleston, is something to do when you feel like being a little extravagant. Lace up a pair of roller skates if you're feeling sporting. Or pay a visit to Sargent Art Gallery for a quiet afternoon. (News file photos)

If you're in an outdoor mood...

- Participate in outdoor sports
- Go for a walk outside
- Take friends out for a picnic at a nearby park
- Go camping
- Go horseback riding
- Go birdwatching
- Look at something besides your feet for a change—go cloud or star gazing
- Have a bonfire party
- Spend the day taking outdoor photographs
- Take a drive in the country

When it's finally the weekend...

- Go to a concert
- Take a weekend vacation
- Hit the hotspots at another school
- Go to a pro sports game
- Spend the weekend in someone else's home town
- Take in a play
- Invite your friends to a dinner and slumber party
- Enjoy staying out late and sleeping in
- Show out-of-town friends around Eastern
- Spend the day looking for stores, parks or other interesting places in the area you might have missed
